

New Air Service to SLC

-  Delta Air Lines recently announced nonstop service to Columbus, Ohio, starting June 2019 aboard an Airbus A319 aircraft.
-  Frontier Airlines announced new nonstop service between SLC and Fort Myers beginning in November 2018. In addition, nonstop service between SLC and San Antonio began Aug. 15.

SLC Airport Rankings

-  Travel Bank ranked SLC Airport as the fourth best airport for business travelers. The study looked at five factors important to business travelers, including on-time arrivals, airport transit, parking prices and quality and service to determine the rankings. <https://travelbank.com/blog/news/best-worst-airports-for-business-travel/>
-  OAG gave SLC Airport a five-star rating for on-time performance when compared to last year. SLC ranked 86.5 worldwide with 243,683 operations. SLC was one of six U.S. airports to earn a five-star rating. On-time performance is measured by the number of departures and arrivals that take place less than 15 minutes after the scheduled departure/arrival time. <https://www.oag.com/on-time-performance-star-ratings-2018>

The New SLC Update

Count Down to 2020

Construction of the first phase of The New SLC has reached the halfway mark and crews have their eye on an opening day in fall of 2020. There's plenty of concrete to be poured and drywall to be hung, but in the meantime you can get a sense of the finished product through a new virtual reality experience available on the airport's website at <https://www.slcairport.com/thenewslc/rebuild-videos>

SLC Rebuild a Boon to the Economy

The headline in The Salt Lake Tribune read "Study: Salt Lake City International Airport rebuild injects $5.5 B into local economy, created more than 3,300 jobs." It may be hard to believe, but it's true. A recent study commissioned by SLC Airport measured the ripple effect every dollar spent on construction has in the economy. The numbers don't lie. ## Share Your Story

The New SLC is coming in 2020, but before we bid a fond farewell to the current airport, we want to collect the countless memories and experiences from the many who have traveled through the Salt Lake City International Airport since the early 1960s.

SLC Stories is a place to share the memories of airport moments—from somber to silly, hilarious to heart-breaking, elating to embarrassing. As we move forward to The New SLC, let's reflect on where we've been and capture some of the experiences worth reminiscing about for years to come.

The best stories gathered here will be shared on the slcairport.com website and via the airport's social media channels. Some may even appear in a forthcoming book capturing and celebrating the history of SLC.

Don't keep those great stories to yourself. Let us know why SLC is unforgettable at www.slcairport.com/stories We look forward to reading your story!

What's in a Name?

Passengers flying out of SLC the past six months have noticed changes to the concourse names. In May, Concourse A was renamed Concourse G and in September, Concourse B was renamed Concourse F. It's all part of the transition to The New SLC coming in 2020. The new concourses will be named A and B, so the existing needed to be re-named in preparation for the transition to the new facility.
