

AIRPORT REDEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

PHASE 2 COMING IN 2023–2024

The New SLC Email Alert - Summer 2022

New Concessions Selected for Phase 2

On May 3, Salt Lake City Department of Airports unveiled a varied menu of new restaurants and retail shops for Phase 2 of The New SLC Redevelopment Program. The selections provide a snapshot into the area's local flavor as well as a taste of well-known national brands.

When selecting Phase 2 concessions, the airport wanted a mix of local, regional and national choices, while taking into consideration pricing, hours of operation and service standards. When the first phase of The New SLC opened, all concessions began offering street pricing, which is a requirement for Phase 2 as well.

Minute Suites – one of the new amenities set to open in Phase 2 – will offer travelers a private retreat to nap, relax and work.

The New SLC Phase 2 was designed for 19 retail and restaurant spaces totaling 23,873 sq. ft. Many of the vendors selected are businesses that are Airport Concessions Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (ACDBE) certified. This program is designed to level the playing field for small businesses who wish to participate in contracting opportunities at airports.

The concession operators selected are: HG SLC Retailers JV, HMSHost, Marshall Retail Group, OHM Concession Group, Paradies Lagardère, Millcreek Coffee Roasters, Minute Suites and SLC Hospitality Partners. You can view all of the New SLC's current food and beverage, and retail options HERE.

Good Things Come in Threes

The summer travel season has officially taken off and with it comes three new carriers at The New SLC. Within two weeks, the airport welcomed Eurowings Discover, Spirit Airlines and Air Canada to the market.

On May 23, the much-anticipated Eurowings Discover flight from Frankfurt landed with great fanfare and celebration. This is the airport's first-ever direct flight to Germany and fourth destination in Europe. Three days later, Spirit Airlines' bright yellow planes entered Salt Lake City's skies for the first time with daily flights to Las Vegas, Los Angeles and Orlando. The ultra-low-cost carrier hopes to make travel more affordable in the area by offering low fares to the places people want to go most.

Eurowings Discover landing at SLC International for the first time on May 23.

On June 3, Air Canada became the third airline to join The New SLC this season, returning to the airport after a five-year absence. Air Canada now offers weekly flights to Toronto and connections to eastern Canada, Europe, Africa and the Middle East.

In addition to new air carriers, Delta resumed nonstop service to London on May 15. With these combined new services, SLC International now has more seats to more international destinations than ever before.

SLC International was named winner of the 2022 Richard A. Griesbach Award for Excellence in Airport Concessions. The award is the highest honor given by Airports Council International - North America recognizing airport concessions.

The award considers an airport's entire concession program— including food service, retail and consumer services in terms of the overall mix, quality, brands, sales and build-out. The New SLC Airport concession program was touted for raising the bar for passengers, concessionaires and airlines accommodating diverse tastes, dietary restrictions and price points so that no passenger is left behind. ## Airport Redevelopment Team Wins OSHA Award

Salt Lake City Department of Airports is proud to recognize a major achievement of our Airport Redevelopment Program team. The crew was recently recognized with a Voluntary Protection Program Star Flag for achieving exemplary occupational safety and health on a work site. To earn the award, the team worked in sync with OSHA to proactively prevent injuries and illnesses through hazard prevention and control, worksite analysis, and staff training.

The New SLC Construction Progress

Phase 2 of The New SLC is taking shape, as work on the Central Tunnel and the expansion of Concourse A continues. The following are a few photos highlighting the work underway.
