

Salt Lake City Department of Airports Performer Guidelines

The Salt Lake City Department of Airports occasionally schedules musical performers to provide live music for all passengers to enjoy. The musicians may perform during holidays, for special events or announcements.

The following criteria and guidelines provide criteria used to select musicians to perform at the Salt Lake City International Airport. All musicians must submit samples via CD or an electronic link to the communication coordinator for review along with a fee schedule.

Performer selection criteria and guidelines:

- Individuals or groups that wish to perform at SLC Airport should submit music samples along with a resume or short artistic biography to the airport's communication coordinator at AirportInfo@slcgov.com
- Applicants will be considered based on appropriateness for the environment and for an airport audience
- Experience and professional credentials will play a factor in the selection process
- Musicians must be Utah residents
- Selected artists must adhere to SLC Airport's guidelines as they pertain to volume, security procedures and respect for all passengers and employees
- Preference will be given to artists who demonstrate an ability to perform appropriate musical genres
- Musical content should be inclusive for most audiences
- Musicians must pass a background check in order to get a temporary security badge to perform at the airport
