Zipline Opens First Distribution Center in Utah

The Salt Lake City Department of Airports is teaming up with Intermountain Healthcare to build the first Zipline distribution center in Utah.

Zipline specializes in the delivery of health, wellness and other medical supplies using fixed-wing, highly-automated drones called Zips. Zipline designs, manufactures and operates the Zips under 14 CFR Part 107, and has completed more than 350,000 deliveries, flying more than 10 million miles worldwide.

The distribution center – known as a nest – is located at the highest point of the TransJordan landfill in the South Jordan area.

Current NOTAM: 4.8 NM SSW of U42 daily in a 2 NM radius from the surface-400ft (5,200-5,600 MSL).

Please contact usflightops@flyzipline.com for any additional questions or to request a tour of the facility.
